Mr. Hansel,

I regret that we were not able to attend this meeting. We are in a time of transition when Lt. Shannon has moved from our office to a new role, and his replacement has not been named. Would you please put my name and contact information in your mailing list; for we would like to participate in future like meetings.

Thank you,

Captain Garret L. Rain

Subject: Marcellus Shale Oilfield Crime Committee Meeting -- LE Invitation

Greetings,

I am reaching out to you on behalf of the Marcellus Shale Oilfield Crime Committee (MSOCC). MSOCC was established by a group of security professionals who represent operators who are doing exploratory drilling operations in the Marcellus play. Currently, there are approximately twenty-five individuals representing companies such as Chesapeake, XTO, Exco, Shell, Tallman, Chief, Range Resources, and Anadarko to name a few.

Many of us are also involved in similar groups in the Rockies, South Texas, and East Texas. Our groups in some of those areas work very closely with FBI Task forces dedicated to oilfield crime. Considering the growth of the industry regionally, I don't think it's unreasonable to expect that something similar may someday materialize locally.

By and large, our contingent consists of professionals with a Law Enforcement background who are interested in developing working relationships and networking on intelligence issues. Currently, we are meeting semi-monthly to discuss regional security concerns we are seeing in our industry. It is our collective impression that we would like to begin inviting our LE friends to our meetings in order to begin developing a network of intelligence sharing.

Please forward this e-mail to anyone in your department who may have a vested interest in participating in this group. Currently, we are inviting sworn law enforcement officers assigned a position relating to intelligence and prosecutors at the county, state, and federal level to participate. To my former colleagues from the PA State Police, please feel free to disseminate this e-mail to troop commanders; their participation (or their designee) is welcomed as well.

Anadarko Petroleum Corporation will be hosting the next meeting of MSOCC on Wednesday, January 25, 2012. The lunch meeting will take place from 1100-1230 hours on the third floor of the Sovereign Bank building in Williamsport, PA (33 West Third St. Williamsport, PA 17701). Parking is available at the Third Street parking garage accessed by either Church St. or Third St. (please bring your parking pass for validation at meeting).

Please RSVP to me [REDACTED] by 1700 hours on Monday, January 23, 2011.

Best,
